L PASO COUNTY needs a bond issue of not less than $750,000 if not $1,000,000, for the repair of pursont roads and the building of new roads in the county.

This was the sentiment of the business men and taxpayers who met with the county commissioners. The meeting was a friendly discussion of the meeting was a friendly discussion of the needs for better and more permanent roads in El Paso county of the kind of roads to be built and the necessity for voting bonds at once for the improvement of the roads.

Concrete roads were froods.

Concrete roads were Roads.

Concrete roads were traveral by a majority of the ditiens who were present at the meeting although it was decided at the meeting that, in the event that the bond issue was carried, the commissioners should not be committed to any one class of road. Instead it was voted that five business men and taxpayers be selected by the county commissioners should not be committed to any one class of road. Instead it was voted that five business men and taxpayers be selected by the county commissioners to confer with them as the representatives of the taxpayers of the county and that they recommend the kind of a road to be built in order that, when the bond issue was put before the people at the hond election, they would know what kind of a road was to be built with the money which they were voting in the form of bonds.

Commissioners interested.

The county commissioners participated in the general discussion of roads and road building and showed that they were deeply interested in Siving III. Paso county will have the fine state. Seth Orndorff, who has been making a special study of roads and methods of construction while in Eart.

J. M. Wyatt acted as chairman of the meeting, Mr. Katkatuer secretary that the meeting and the meaning of the movement which will mean that the bond served that the meeting and the knowledge they showed that the movement busy the men who attended the meeting that the project.

Commissioners Interested.

The county commissioners participated in the general discussion of roads and road building and showed that they were deeply interested in giving MI Pano the best pared roads in the state. Seth Orndorff, who has been making a special study of roads and methods of construction while in East Texas, spoke for the commissioners and declared that it was not a matter of how much was to be spent on road construction werk but how the money was spent. He pledsed the commissioners to build the roads of the county, if the bond issue was voted, to the best of their ability and promised that the county commissioners and the hindress men and farspayers would cooperate in every possible way in an effort to give El Paso the best possible roads for the money that was to be spent.

County Should Aid City.

Mr. Orndorff referred to the recent trip of the counting and none in the hand abandoned the idea that the county should spend all of its money in the county and none in the improvement of the city. He told of the Dallas causeway over the Trinity river, which was built by the county in the city of Dallas and how it was lighted from the new courthatts. He said that, since the city paid a majority of the taxes. It was entitled to consideration from the county.

Concrete Honds.

C. M. Newman, H. M. Dudley, C. B. Stevens, J. M. Wyatt, A. Courchesne, John Stream and others spoke in favor of a road bond issue. C. M. Newman made a motion that it was the sum of the meeting that the county needed to repair the present road syntam and to construct new roads. A. Committee of Pive.

A general discussion followed as to whether or not the commissioners should be committed to one kind of road. It was the general opinion of the meeting that, while concrete was favored as a construction material it would be best not to recummend any particular road material to the commissioners. It was suggested that the commissioners to caoparate with the commissioners to caoparate with the commissioners in getting the best possible roads for El Paso. It was also decided that this committee be sutherized to recommend the kind of roads to be built and, with the approval of the commissioners, the amount of the benefits to be voted.

R M Dudley urged that, as far an peasible, it he recommended that all road work be let under contract and Committee of Five.

Two days before, he states, a 510 bill and 18 pesos were stalen from the drawer of his bureau. This theft occurred during the afternoon, while he was in Juarez.

The Juarez market house burned again early Sunday morning. The charcoal fires which the Mexican restaurant keepers in the market house have burning to cook their food over is believed to have caused the fire. A similar fire occurred during the Madero revolution and burned the interior and root of the market house. The building was almost completely destroyed as the Juarez fire department was unable to control such a fire and the local department declined to go to the assistance of the Juarez volunteer firemen. With Cane For Weapon, Doughty-Wylie Led Men In Charge; Meets Death

Caire, Egypt, June 14.—In recent dis-Cairo, Egypt, June 14.—In recent dispatches from this place mention was inade of the nameless hero of Sed-el-Bahr—a certain colonel who, after the difficult landing operations there, and subsequent to the assault on the fortress, led the men in a gallant hazonel charge up a hill. All he carried was a small cane, but a band he wore on his arm apparently was that of a staff of ficer. He walked about in the open under a continuous fire talking to the men, cheering them up and rallying them together. When they were all ready for the bayonet charge, he placed himself in front of them all and, armed simply with this small cane, led the charge up the hill. The moral effect of the officer's action was great. The
